Count de Keratry therefore was deputed to pin the cross of the Legion our upon the breasts of those selected for this nction, namely, Robert Underwood Johnson, "The Century Magazine" editorial staff, secretary of the American Authors' Copyright League and of the Joint Executive Copyright Committee, which represented all agues which favored the copyright measure, and ex Representative William E. Simonds, also a leader in the battle just won by the friends of copyright.

It was originally the intention of the French Govern ment to include Senator Platt, of Connecticut, in the list of men upon whom crosses were to be bestowed in moration of their services in the cause of copy right, but it is understood that, after coming to this nation, the French Government was informed that the laws of the United States debarred a Senator from receiving such a decoration. However, the desire to honor Senator Platt has been carried out, as Count te Keratry is also entrusted with conferring upon senator Platt a handsome medal, especially designed and struck for the occasion, which is the gift to the sensior from Connecticut of the French literary so-ciceties, who greatly appreciate Mr. Platt's efforts. The idea was that Count de Keratry should decorate essrs. Johnson and Simonds at the dinner of the Copyright League, which will be held on April 13, at sherry's, upon the occasion of the celebration of the eighth anniversary of the organization of the League, but it is understood that the decorations may be con ned before that date. It was the opening night of the spring exhibition of the New-York Florists' Club for the benefit of St. Mary's Free Hospital for Children. The exhibition continues every afternoon and evening this week. The display is said to be the largest and finest ever seen in New-York, many new varities being on exhibition. The main hall contains the ferns and potted plants, and tables for the sale of cut flowers, while downstairs are cut flowers and bulbs. The attractions vary each day. Yesterday there was a display of azaleas, genistas, bulbs and other spring bloom-ing plants, also an immense lot of fine cut blooms of roses, erchids, carnations and violets.

Among the new roses were the Oakmont, a prolific va-riety and of good commercial value; the Waban, finer and richer in coler than the Mermet. To-morrow there will be display of wedding bouquets, dinner-table decorations wedding decorations, corsage and boutonniere bouquet and baskets of flowers. There are over 600 varieties on exhibition. Music is furnished both afternoon and ovening by Theodore Thomas's orchestra.

PROFESSOR SPITZKA'S NAME WAS FORGED.

Professor E. C. Spitzka, the well-known insanity expert, has seen annoyed for the past few months by storekeepers tahibiting worthless checks to him bearing his name. They told the Professor that they had cashed the checks for a well dressed old man. Who the swindler really was, none of them knew. On Monday morning Mrs. Withelmina Harnischieger, one of the victims, at 1,043 second-ave., saw the check-passer passing her store. She followed him to his house at No. 330 East Fifty-eighth-st. She summoned Officer Murphy, of the Fifty-first Precinct, and had him arrested. He said that he was Robert A. Spitzharth, a specialist physician.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION ON THE CON-TINENT REGARDED AS SERIOUS.

ACTIVITY OF THE FRENCH TROOPS-RUSSIA'S AC-TION IN VOLHYNIA-CONTINENTAL BOURSES NOT DIS-TURBED.

London, April 7 .- Advices received here from sev eral of the principal capitals of Europe show that the political situation on the Continent is regarded as serious by the leading statesmen and diplomats Several significant moves have been made during the last few days. The action of the Russian authorities in doubling the strength of the Russian forces in Volhynia is gravely discussed in the capitals of the various countries.

The greatest activity prevails among the troops garrisoning the principal fortified places in France The troops are being continually drilled in the usual military tactics, and, in addition, they have been subjected to a series of sudden night alarms, betokening the approach of an enemy, in order to test their ability to respond rapidly to a call to repel a foe. The alarmist reports circulated in regard to the political situation did not have much effect upon the Continental Bourses to-day. At the opening the feeling was unsettled, but the markets closed firm.

Berlin, April 7 .- The "North German Gazette" to Berlin, April 7.—The "North German Gazette" to-day, referring to the war rumors current, denies that international relations are not pacific, adding: "Every-thing justifies the hope of the permanence of peace. The whole strength of the nations of Europe ought to be devoted to economic developments." Buda-Pesth, April 7.—The "Pesther Lloyd" pub-lishes an article to-day stating that, according to semi-official news which has been received from Berlin, the general European situation is regarded in the German capital as threatening.

FRANCE'S DIPLOMATIC INNOVATION. TO STATION COMMERCIAL ATTACHES AT ITS EMBASSIES AND LEGATIONS.

Paris, April 7 .- The French Government has definitely decided upon taking an exceedingly important step in the direction of improving the sources of in formation at the disposal of the Government in regard to the commercial affairs of foreign countries. It has and, when the Government was in need of information concerning some commercial feature peculiar to, say the United States, that, though the ecessary information was always to be had from the Embassy at Washington, for instance, it was no of that completely technical character which the case demanded. Consequently, the French Go ernment has now come to the determination to appoint to all its embassies and legations abroad, in addition to the other attaches, officers who will be known a mercial attaches. The duties of this new class of attaches will be similar to those of the military and naval attaches now forming part of the staff of a legation or embassy, with the difference, however, that while the military and naval attaches devote their time to the study and record of improvements, etc., In the military and naval forces of the country in the military and naval forces of the country in which they may be stationed, the commercial attaches will turn their attention entirely to the study of the commerce and commercial relations of the country to which they are sent, and will be expected, at all times, to be ready to make any investigations or answer any questions concerning the commercial affairs of such country.

It is expected that this step, which has long been urged by merchants in France, will lead to additional developments, improvements and facilities for the export and import trade of this country.

PARNELL'S SECRET MARRIAGE

HIS BRIDE SAID TO BE MRS. O'SHEA'S DAUGHTER, WHO IS A WARD IN CHANCERY.

London, April 7 .- The woman to whom Mr. Parnell is said to have been privately married since the O'Sheadivorce suit is the eldest daughter of Mrs. O'Shea. The extreme privacy with which the ceremony was performed is attributed to the fact that the young woman is a ward in chancery. Although she is twenty-one years of age, the marriage could not be lawfully nized without the assent of the court, and by his action Mr. Parnell lays himself open to prosecu tion. Several Parnellite members of the House of Commons pretend to believe, although they deny any knowledge of the facts, that Mr. Parnell never an unlawful intimacy with Mrs. O'Shea, and that his secret visits to the home of the O'Sheas were made for the purpose of meeting the daughter, whom he married with the consent of her mother, but without the knowledge of her father. Other Parnellites, who are supposed to know the truth of the matter, when questioned in regard to the marriage, declared their ignor ance of the whole affair. Captain O'Shea's friends treat the story as a stapid canard.

AN ATTEMPT ON THE CZAR'S LIFE FOILED. London, April 8 .- "The Telegraph's" correspondent at St. Petersburg says: "An attempt was made on the Czar's life on Monday, but the attempt was eleverly frustrated. It was a Russian holiday, and, according to custom, the Czar and Czarina went to review the Imperial Guards at their quarters opposite the palace of the Grand Duke Nicholas. Invitations to the cere mony had been sent to an extremely limited number of persons. A few hundred yards from the church, they met a boy named Dubois, a schoolmate of Miss Morgan. Dubols and Miss Morgan walked home together, Miss Morgan's aunt and Mrs. Dubois going before the young people. The young people stopped and talked a few minutes at the gate o the grounds of the Morgan home, till Miss Morgan's annt called for her to come in. Miss Morgan ar wered that she would come in and Mr. Dubois went on home. That was the last seen of Miss Morgan by any of her friends till to-day, when she was met by Dr A. J. Heinlin, walking home from Bellaire. He took her in his buggy and drove her home.

The young woman's story is as follows: When she not almost to the door of her home on Sunday night she discovered that she had dropped a letter, and re-traced her steps down the read looking for it. When she was about 300 yards from home, a closed hack drove up the road and stopped. The door was thrown open and two men leaped out and seized her. One pushed a gag into her mouth and the other blind-folded her, and she was pushed into the carriage. The back drove on, she supposed, about two miles, to a house where they stopped and took her out. This use is supposed to be a disreputable road-house. The whom her captors applied for admiss ooked at her, and recognizing her as the child of a weatilty family, living near at hand, refused to allow them to bring her in. She was again placed in the carriage and driven on her captors finally decided to let her go, and she was released on the public road nearly twenty miles from her home.

WORKINGMEN WIN THEIR BATTLES.

The union painters in this city have practically won their fight for a work day of eight hours and $3 50 a day. Only seventeen large firms are still holding out and these are willing to grant the eight hours, but not the $2.50. John Beattle, President of the Master Fainters' Association, gave in yesterday. The members of Progressive Painters' Union No. 6 were yesterday expelled and will be boycotted because they refused to strike when ordered to.

The Granite-Cutters' Union also won its strike for ight hours at $4 a day yesterday, and all the men reeight hours at $4 a day yesterday, and all the men re-turned to work except those employed in the Dock Department.

The strike on the Edison Building was settled yes-terday and the strikers will return to work this morn-ing at $3 50 a day, which was what they wanted.

THE CHILD WAS BLIND AND WAS POISONED. He entered Union College during the presidency of the Rev. Dr. Eliphalet Nott, who was then in his full rigor and celebrity as an educator. He was graduated in 1832, in his eighteenth year, taking one of the onors of his class—the Latin oration. After his graduation he spent three years in teach ing as an assistant to his father in the Mount Pleasant Academy. He began the study of medicine under Dr. Adrian K. Hoffman, then surgeon of the State prison at Sing Sing, but in the entumn of 1835 he decided to devote his life to the ministry, and entered the Theological Seminary at Princeton. After a three years' course at this institution he was graduated in the class of 1838, and was licensed to preach on May 16 of that year by the Presbytery of North River. In December he was called to become an assistant to the Rev. Methuselah Baldwin, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Scotchtown, Orange County, N. Y., and was ordained collegiate paster on June 12, 1847, he became sole pastor. On the 26th of September, 1839, he married Maria Darlington, daughter of John S. Wilson, of Princeton, N. J. In November, 1850, accompanied by his wife, he went to New Orleans to spend the winter for his health. On arriving there he accepted an invitation to supply the pulpit of the Lafayette Square Presbyterian Church for six months, during the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Dr. William A. Scoti, who was then travelling in Palestine and Egypt. Is there anything you want to buy, hire or sell? If so, take a look at the short advertisements on the AMERICAN PORK ABROAD.

The announcement that Germany would remove her embargo from American pork was received with satisfaction at the Freduce Exchange yesterday. Porkmen there have long believed that the embargo would be lifted since United states Minister Pheips and Socretary Rusk began their vigorous work in that direction.

A common expression was that France would A common expression was that France would soon follow in the lead of Germany. It was reported in some papers that the dispatches from Europe saying hat Germany had definitely decided to remove the embargo were distrusted in Chicago. Elemand J. C. Abel said: "Yes, sir, we are going to have a big market in Europe for the American hog. We believe that Germany will take off her embargo at the next sitting of the Reichstag, and that France will follow suit."

MAJOR M'KINLEY ON THE OHIO ELECTIONS

REPUBLICANISM REVIVING IN ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY-THE OUTLOOK.

Washington, April 7 (Special).—Major McKinley, who has been in Washington since Sunday last, gave to-day to a local interviewer some interesting views on the result of the Ohio spring elections and on polities generally.

day," he said, "Is significant and encouraging to the Republicans. The result in Cleveland seems particularly significant. At the last election the Democrats carried that city by nearly 4,000 majoriy. We have just carried it by some 3,000, though the Democrats cominated a strong man and a good hard fight was mate. The Republicans are active in Ohio and there was a pretty bard fight for the nominations."

"What do you think has led to the increased Republican vote?" was asked.

"I think that Republicanism is reviving, not only in Ohlo, but in all parts of the country. The people are beginning to find out the false prophets who talked about the tariff last year. They see that the increased prices and all that was a part of the scheme of misrepresentation. You remember the recent local elections in New-York State were very encouraging to the accuracy from merely local elections, but I think the Republicans are in pretty good shape all over the

What is the outlook for '921" "I think the Republicans are bound to elect the President in '92, whomever they nominate. I notice that Mr. Hill is trying to change the issue and to put a different interpretation on the November elections from that popular with the Democrats. I do not know that there is any significance in that."

"What is the chief danger to the Republicans now?" "I do not think that there is anything particularly dangerous to the Republicans in the political situation unless it is the Farmers' Alliance movement."

Discussing politics further, Mr. McKinley said that he did not see how the Democrats could avoid making silver a leading issue to the next Presidential contest if they passed a free-coloage bill through the House and it was defeated either in the Senate or by the Presi-dent's veto. He did not think, however, that the nomination of Mr. Cleveland would necessarily be interfered with by that. ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

Washington, April 7 (Special).-It is stated that the President has decided to appoint ex-Representative Lorenzo Crounse, of Nebraska, to be assistant Secretary f the Treasury to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of General Batcheller when the latter was appointed Minister to Portugal. It is understood that Mr. Crounse is the personal choice of Secretary

Foster, with whom he served in Congress. The appointment will probably be made before the President goes resident of Nebraska when that State was still a choharie County, New-York, was his place of birth. aptain of artillery. In 1865 he settled in Nebraska where he was elected a member of the State Constitutional Convention the next year. In the organization of the State government, Mr. Crounse was made Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. That office he held until elected to Congress in 1873. He served in the House multi 1877. The home of the new Assistant Secretary is at Fort Calhoun, in the north-eastern part of the State.
